Loved the game! Very entertaining and original. I hope there's a second one coming.. I'm going to recommend this game because it has some unique ideas for an Hidden Object Game, but it is very, very repetitive. Instead of the standard list of words, in this game the object is to find matches of two or or sometimes three identical items. The puzzles vary from the standard static HO scenes to ones where the items move around and ones where the items are layered on top of each other and the player must move them around. In between some of these HO puzzles are a few memory match games, jigsaw puzzles and strip puzzles to do. While there is technically a story involved, it is just told to the player inbetween the various HO scenes and looks to be the story that one plays through in "Fall of the New Age" which is also by the same developers. Honestly the story has nothing to do with the HO puzzles and just seems to be there to break up the game so that the player isn't just playing one HO scene after another (which he is anyway) and the story could have been dropped entirely from the game and it would not have made any difference to the gameplay. All the HO scenes use pretty much the same pictures over and over again, which gets tiring and makes this a "meh" HOG at best.. Started out alright, but if your on Windows 10 your screwed. Come round 6, it has you move things in a pile and it refused to move. Good luck on tech support either.
